HAND PAPERS TO AMERICAN ENVOY

British Officials Seize Captain von Papen's Documents.

GAVE $700 TO WERNER HORN

Correspondence Reveals That Former German Military Attaché at Washington Made Frequent Payments to Persons Charged With Responsibility for Explosions.

London, Jan. 15.—Copies of correspondence seized from Captain Franz von Papen, recalled German military attaché at Washington, when he reached Falmouth on his way to Germany, have been turned over to the American embassy for transmission to the state department.

They show that Captain von Papen made frequent payments to persons charged with the responsibility for blowing up munitions works and bridges in the United States.

The entry shows that Captain von Papen gave $700 to Werner Horn, who was arrested in connection with the Canadian Pacific railway bridge over the St. Croix river at Vanceboro, Me. The day before this check was issued the German embassy paid $2,000 into Captain von Papen's account.

Captain von Papen's check stubs, bank books and letters from his bank, the Riggs National bank at Washington, show about 500 items, many of which have to do with routine expenditures. Others, however, revealed payments to various persons who have figured prominently in the activities of German agents in America and to at least one spy who committed suicide in a cell in an English prison.

Several large payments were made to Captain von Papen by Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador at Washington. Most of these were for salaries or bonuses. A number of entries showed payments made by the ambassador to the military attaché for "war intelligence office." One of the payments on this account made in October, 1914, was for $2,300.

Another check stub shows that about two weeks before the explosion in Seattle on May 30, 1915, Captain von Papen sent $500 to the German consulate at Seattle. In February of 1915 he sent $1,300 to the German consulate in that city.

In January, 1915, he gave a check payable to Amelsick & Co., New York, but with the name E. Kuepferle in brackets on the stub. This is believed to have reference to the man named Kuepferle, who after being arrested in England on the charge of espionage, committed suicide, leaving a written confession in his cell.

Among the papers taken from Captain von Papen was a letter from the German consul at New Orleans condoling with him on his recall from Washington and criticizing severely the attitude of the American government.

HIS COMMENT VERY BRIEF

German Ambassador Doubts Reports About von Papen.

Washington, Jan. 15.—When Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, was shown London dispatches telling of the correspondence and accounts taken from Captain von Papen, the former German military attaché here, his comment was:

"I don't believe it."

Further than that the ambassador declined to be quoted for publication. He did make it plain, however, that he doubted that any documents of an incriminating nature had been taken from Captain von Papen, although he advanced no theory of how the correspondence and accounts described in the London dispatches had been connected with him.

JUVENILE CRIME INCREASES

Bad Effect of War on Youth of Germany Considered.

Berlin, Jan. 15.—That war has increased juvenile crime in Germany was pointed out by Professor Franz von Liszt of Berlin university, one of the most distinguished criminologists and professors of law in Germany, in an address before the society for the reformation of youthful criminals.

Professor Liszt recommends as a remedy a decree by the military government of Cassel, forbidding boys to visit saloons or moving picture shows, or to loaf about the streets during the evening smoking and drinking alcoholic beverages.

The building in which the accident occurred was of brick and iron construction and was known as the nitrate of ammonia crystallizing house.

The structure was demolished at an estimated loss of $25,000.

FREDERICK PRICE FOUND GUILTY OF MURDERING HIS WIFE

(By United Press)

Minneapolis, Jan. 15.—Frederick Price was found guilty of murdering his wife. After eighteen hours and forty minutes seclusion, the jury returned this verdict, at 12:45 this afternoon.

Price trembled violently and his head sank forward. He said: "A few indiscreet actions on my part influenced the jury against me. I called Carrie Olson immediately. She already knew."

"I don't know about a new trial and will consult my attorneys. I am unable to understand Etchison's story and I am unable to understand the verdict."

The verdict carries with it automatically life imprisonment at the Stillwater penitentiary. Attorney Brady for the defense moved a stay of sentence until Wednesday and the stay was granted.

GIVES CARRANZA AN OPPORTUNITY

President Wilson Is Determined Not to Be Stampeded.

MUST RUN DOWN MURDERERS

Administration Will Allow Mexican De Facto Government a Fair Chance to Capture Slayers of Americans Before Rushing an Army Across the Rio Grande.

Washington, Jan. 15.—General Carranza and the de facto government of Mexico are to be given full opportunity, without intervention from the United States, to run to earth the murderers of American citizens at Santa Ysabel and to demonstrate ability to restore order and protect foreign rights in the southern republic.

This was the outstanding fact here after a meeting of the cabinet, a conference between President Wilson and Chairman Stone of the senate foreign relations committee and another stirring debate in the senate chamber.

The president, supported by his cabinet and the Democratic leaders in congress, is declared to be determined that the American government shall not be stampeded by war talk and cries of vengeance into rushing an army across the Rio Grande to destroy in its infancy the de facto government, which the United States with the co-operation of Pan-American nations aided in establishing after the Mexican nation had been torn by revolution for years.

Resolution Directs Intervention.

In the senate administration leaders firmly outlined the position of the government in the face of denunciation from the Republican side and another resolution directing intervention, proposed by Senator Works of California.

At the state department officials were vigilant in their watch over the situation awaiting official word from General Carranza in reply to the demand upon him to seek out and punish the bandit murderers.

Measures to facilitate the removal of Americans from districts where their lives might be endangered were discussed by department officials with Mr. Arredondo, who later advised General Carranza by telegraph that every assistance be given such Americans and escorts provided to accompany them into cities where strong garrisons are maintained. He went farther than the state department suggested, recommending that in cases where foreigners objected to leaving that they be forcibly removed to points of safety.

ONLY TEN CENTS TO GET MARRIED

CUPID'S MUNICIPAL BUREAU.

Too Cheap to Be Good, Some Bridal Couples Think as They Make Their Way to New York City's Marriage Department—Fat Bridegroom Breaks Down.

"Sometimes they come in giggling and chewing gum. Sometimes they are serious, and I have even seen a 250 pound man break down and cry. But we treat them all alike, whether they are rich or poor. We line them up at the door and pass them through as fast as possible, and we have started on the road of life as many as fifty a day."

This is the way Matthew Dobbins, who has charge of New York city's marriage chapel in the municipal building, described his work. The chapel has been in existence seven months, and 4,339 ceremonies have been performed within it, an average of over 700 a month, or about twenty-three a day.

"It is hard to make some of the couples believe we have given them a good ceremony," said Mr. Dobbins, "because we charge only 10 cents, and that is for the revenue stamp. Some people appear to think that a ten cent marriage is not as good as one that costs $5, but there is none better at any price. Besides, we keep a record of all witnesses, and at times this record is very useful."

Putting Them Through.

"When we get ready to perform the ceremonies we line the couples up outside the chapel door. We give them numbers, so that the first comers will be the first served. We pass the couples in one at a time, and after they are married they are sent out through another door. We fill out the record for the department of health, have the witnesses affix their names and addresses, and the job is done. By getting the addresses of the witnesses we have found ten missing girls for the police. If no witness is present with the couple one of the boys in the office acts as a witness."

"When the chapel was first started under the city's direction there were a number of hangers-on who made a little money on the side by telling couples who wished to be married that they could get it done easily and quickly. We have put a stop to that."

"The Italians are the most serious during the ceremony. The people come up here because it is convenient, after they have secured their licenses downstairs, more than because it is cheap. I believe, though, we do get many because it costs nothing. We do not want any couples who are not old enough to get married, and the aldermen have been strict in this respect. They refuse to marry girls under eighteen unless the parents are present to give their consent. Many who get married here come from out of town. We had fifty-five out of town couples the first month, and the number has kept along about the same. The charge to the out of town couples is the same as to New Yorkers."

Alderman Holds Record.

"There are plenty of opportunities for taking money for performing ceremonies, but no one here ever takes a cent. At times the aldermen, when offered money, have it passed over to the bride as a wedding present."

"The first ceremony in the city's own marriage chapel was performed by City Magistrate Norman M. Marsh on June 9. Alderman William F. Quinn holds the record, with 842 ceremonies. Alderman Sidney C. Crane has officiated at 824 and Alderman James A. Milligan at 708."

"I am going to see if we cannot fix the chapel up a bit," said Mr. Dobbins.

KITCHEN CUES.

Simple Ways of Doing Simple Things Intelligently and Well.

To prevent potatoes becoming black when cooked put them into cold water and when brought to the boil squeeze a little lemon juice in. They will then keep a good color and be of good flavor.

Before using tinware of any kind rub it well over with fresh lard. If treated in this way it will never rust.

Slip a thimble on the curtain rod when running it through the hem of the curtain.

The tops of pale covered evening gloves make very dainty shoes for babies.

For a homemade coal box procure a wooden lard bucket from the grocer. Remove the wire handle and clean thoroughly inside and outside with strong soda water, one pound to a gallon of boiling water. Purchase a three penny bottle of oak varnish and when the bucket is dry apply over evenly and quickly. Leave for several hours. Get two penny bronze handles and screw one on each side, and the article is complete. The outside cost of this is a quarter, and it looks as well as one costing several times that amount.

White satin shoes should always be kept in blue paper to prevent them from becoming discolored.

After fowl of any kind is cleaned the inside should be rubbed thoroughly with a piece of lemon before the dressing is put in.

When ivory handled knives look yellow rub them with fine sandpaper or emery. It will take off the spots and restore the whiteness.

If clothespins are dipped in white enamel paint and dried in the sun they can be kept perfectly clean and will not split or mark the clothes.

Tin that has become rusty of stained may be cleaned by dipping the cut surface of a raw potato in fine brick and rubbing well with this.

WORK WHILE YOU MAY.

Be no longer a Chaos, but a World, or even a Worldkin. Produce, produce! Were it but the pitifulest infinitesimal fraction of a Product, produce it in God's name. 'Tis the utmost thou hast in thee. Out with it then! Up, up! Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy whole might. Work while it is called today, for the night cometh wherein no man can work.—Carlyle.

An Impossible Ideal?

Perhaps, after all, the real danger is not that women will ever forget the value of the home and their obligation to it, but that men will never entirely learn them.

We are indebted to that gifted and charming essayist, Elizabeth Woodbridge, for the following: "To say that it is woman's task to make the home is to miss its most exquisite meaning. No one of the group can make the home, though any one can mar it. It must be made by all for the uses of all."

Well, if it is one thing for all to use the home, it is another thing for all—and by that we mean every one under the roof-tree—to help make the home.

And we will probably never learn the true significance of this difference unless we first distinctly understand that making a home is more, far more, than a matter of cooking food and making beds, of fetching and carrying and running the vacuum cleaner.

There can be no quarrel with that division of labor which makes house hold tasks very largely a woman's business and breadwinning outside the home a man's business.

But after both men and women have accomplished this much there still remains the finest part of the task of homemaking.

It lies in heart interest, in love for the home as an institution and in a thorough belief in its sacredness. A woman once said, "I can conceive of such a fine interpretation of the meaning and value of home that in case of difficulty or disagreement between two people the very ideal of the home itself would outweigh the personal element and conserve unity."

The idea that two people might be willing to submerge personal differences to the larger ideal of home itself may be an ambitious conception, but surely not impossible. And in this role of homemaker a man may serve as largely and as truly as a woman.

PROMINENT DULUTH LAYMEN TO BE HERE

Will Address Congregations Various Churches Sunday Morning and Evening on Missions

AN AFTERNOON MASS MEETING

Every Layman Invited to Attend the Mass Meeting to be Held at First Baptist Church

One of the greatest advance movements of the Christian church was the Laymen's Missionary Movement of five years ago. The men of the churches were educated to the grandeur of the work in missions done by the churches and as a result the work has advanced greatly since then.

Another campaign is now being put on by the laymen in the various cities of the country and Brainerd's laymen are invited to attend the convention to be held in Duluth January 19 to 23.

A team of prominent laymen from Duluth will appear in the pulpits tomorrow and present the missionary work from a laymen's standpoint and to urge men to attend the Duluth convention. These men are all men of good address and are men who are accomplishing things in the world.

H. Hoshauer, a prominent attorney of Duluth will speak at the Congregational church in the morning.

B. O. Peterson, recently of the Philippines will address the congregation of the First Baptist church.

Clinton Oblinger, a Y. M. C. A. secretary, will present the cause to the German Evangelical church.

Harvey Sedgwick, credit manager of the Marshall, Wells Hardware Co., will speak to the congregation at the First M. E. church.

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock a mass meeting will be held at the First Baptist church and will be addressed by Messrs. Sedgwick and Hoshauer.

In the evening Mr. Sedgwick will speak at the Presbyterian church and Mr. Hoshauer at the Swedish Baptist church.

These men have a message which merits the attention of all church men and a broad invitation is issued to all.

Mr. Robert H. Norris, No. 1332 Henry St., North Berkeley, Cal., writes: "We have never had any other medicine but Peruna in our home since we have been married. I suffered with kidney and bladder trouble, but two bottles treatment with Peruna made me a well and strong man. My wife felt weak and was easily tired and was also troubled with various pains, but since she took Peruna she is well and strong."

A Real Romance Culminates Today

(By United Press)

Chicago, Jan. 15.—Miss Ida May Swift, second daughter of Louis F. Swift, multi-millionaire packer, became Countess Minotto today. The wedding here was the culmination of a snap-bang American romance minus rickety estates, basilisk-eyed mamma, tottering titles and the well known anxious creditors which frequently feature international nuptials. Here's how it happened: Count James Minotto came from Venice to conduct a foreign exchange department of the Guaranty Trust company of New York. Two months ago Miss Swift went to New York to visit a friend. That was the first time either today's bride or bridegroom had seen each other. Love at first sight, a proposal in two weeks, acceptance, and marriage two months later is the Swift-Minotto record. Count Demetrius Minotto of Venice, father of the bridegroom and Louis F. Swift, the bride's father, became friends about two minutes after the young couple introduced them.

"We're both business men," said Swift. "And my son-in-law! He's a real count and a good business man. Sure I'm proud of him. Why not?" Count James Minotto's mother is of the German nobility, of equal rank with her husband. The young count is in charge of the South American business of the New York bank and will go to South America with his bride for a two months' honeymoon. Later they will live in New York. The bride has held a notable position among Chicago horsewomen. She is a member of several hunt clubs and maintained a stable of hunters and show horses. She has appeared in classical dances and in social events has been recognized as a pretty, athletic leader of Chicago's younger set. For six months prior to her meeting with Count Minotto she was reported engaged to Edward A. Cudihay, Jr.

YOU'RE BILIOUS! LET "CASCARETS" LIVE! LIVER AND BOWELS

Don't stay headachy, constipated, sick with breath bad and stomach sour.

Get a 10 cent box now.

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, bad taste and poor breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have a bad cold.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning—a 10 cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular, and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.

GIRL'S ANKLES SAVE TWO. Boys Hauled to Safety After Breaking Through Ice. Miss Rose Krauss, eighteen, of New York rescued two boys from drowning in one of the ponds at Van Cortlandt park.

Clarence Carpenter, twelve, and his brother John, ten, Yorkers, had been forbidden to go on the ice. But John decided to try the ice on a pond known as the Swamp, which is near the subway terminal. He dropped off a bridge that spans the pond. The ice broke, and he went into the water. Clarence dropped on the ice to rescue his brother, and he, too, went through.

Miss Krauss saw the accident. She climbed over the railing of the bridge, lowered herself until her feet almost touched the ice and then shouted to the boys to "catch hold." With the two boys holding on to her ankles Miss Krauss pulled them to safety.

The first tenor who won Wagner's admiration, Tichatschek, left to his daughter when he died a number of letters written to him by the great composer, whose Rienzi he created. The Artichoke.

The artichoke has nothing to do with art or the choking of it. The artichoke is an innocent vegetable known to the Arabians as the ardischauti, or earth turnip. The Jerusalem artichoke was never seen near Jerusalem. Its first name is a corruption of the Italian ginsola, which means turning to the sun. It is a species of sunflower, bearing a tuber like that of a potato.

ENGINEERS FIND SOURCE OF ROOSEVELT'S RIVER OF DOUBT

Explorers in South America Reach Headwaters of Famous Stream.

The tracing of the source of the Rio Dubina (River of Doubt), the existence of which was reported by Theodore Roosevelt on his return from South America, was described by George and Stephen Gester of Berkeley, Cal., engineers in the employ of the Standard Oil company, who returned from an expedition into the Cordillera Geral (Andes) mountains.

The engineers said they reached the headwaters of the River of Doubt by crossing the Andes with pack mules from Lima, Peru. They had with them, they said, data from Mr. Roosevelt's report from which to check their observations.

The river, according to the Gesters, has its source among glaciers high up in the mountains. The explorers said they crossed mountains at an elevation of 17,500 feet and that they encountered glaciers at the 12,000 foot level.

They described the river as running 300 miles from the boundary of Bolivia, emptying into the Madeira river near latitude 5.

The engineers said they penetrated the "fever country," where Mr. Roosevelt was stricken. They were attacked by insects, they said, and encountered enormous serpents and other reptiles and strange animals in the dense forests, through which they cut their way with hatchets.

IT'S BARON ASTOR OF HEVER.

New Peer Takes Title From Anne Boleyn's Castle.

William Waldorf Astor, who has been raised to the peerage by King George, will take the title of Baron Astor of Hever castle.

Admiral Lord Charles Beresford probably will be Baron Beresford of Metemuch and Curraghmore.

Hever castle is an ancient mansion in Kent, rebuilt by the great-grandfather of Anne Boleyn, whose Anne Boleyn was visited by Henry VIII, before their marriage. It is said to be one of the finest examples of Tudor architecture in England. Baron Astor spent some $10,000,000 on the estate, including the expenditure for the diversion of the river which, according to tradition, made the castle so damp that Henry VIII, contracted rheumatism there.

HE THRUST GRIEF ASIDE.

Because He Was a Journalist, With a Duty to Perform.

Apologies of journalistic enthusiasm. Mr. Arnold Bennett furnishes a humorous illustration. He was twenty and a reporter for a small paper. An election had taken place in which his paper's candidate had been defeated and a brewer had won. His editor had given him instructions that if they lost he was to make fun of the brewer, and in any case to deliver his copy by 11 o'clock next morning. Mr. Bennett says:

"I attended the declaration of the poll, and as the elated brewer made his speech of ceremony in front of the town hall I observed that his hat was stove in and askew. I fastened on that detail and went to bed in meditation upon the facetious notes which I was to write early on the morrow. In the middle of the night I was awakened up. My venerable grandfather, who lived at the other end of the town, had been taken ill and was dying. As his eldest grandson, my presence at the final scene was indispensable. I went and talked in low tones with my elders.

"Nothing domestic could be permitted to interfere with my duty as a journalist."

"I must write those facetious comments while my grandfather is dying? This thought filled my brain. It seemed to me to be fine, splendid. I was intensely proud of being laid under a compulsion so startlingly dramatic. Could I manufacture jokes while my grandfather expired? Certainly. I was a journalist. And never since have I been so ardently a journalist as I was that night and morning. I wrote my notes at dawn. They delicately exorcised the brewer.

"The curious thing is that my grandfather survived not only that, but several other fatal attacks."

WHAT IS STYLE?

It Is Difficult to Define Because It Is So Intangible.

What makes a woman stylish? Applied to dress, style is a curiously elusive quality, either to define or to acquire.

"A stylish garment?" we say of one made in the fashion of the day. But when we ask, "What is the style of the garment?" we are inquiring for a description that may be of this year's style, or last year's, or of the last century's. A dress may be "in style" so far as its material, cut and trimming go and yet not look stylish when worn, either because it is worn by the wrong person or in the wrong way.

"A stylish woman," we say of one dressed in a la mode, and yet in the next breath we describe another woman as "good style," although she is not wearing the latest fabrics or newest cut and often is not herself beautiful.

Style is not a simple quality, but a compound one. "We say style," says an old writer, "of everything in which form or matter is conceived to be, in however slight degree, expressive of taste and sentiment." And it is taste and sentiment more than a specific mode that go to the making of a style in dress—that intangible something so hard to define, so seldom acquired and so much desired because it is so widely admired.

The French word chic expresses, as Americans and English use it today, a good deal of what we have in mind when we say "stylish." It implies a certain knack in the selection and manner of wearing clothes. The meaning in French includes the idea of subtlety and finesse, and it is these qualities more than the elegant (striking) effect that are suggested by the best dressed women, so often lacking in those of expensively dressed Americans.—Good Health.

WM. FISCHER PLEADS GUILTY THIS MORNING

Is Sentenced to Stillwater Penitentiary by Judge W. S. McClenahan of the District Court

FISCHER MAKES STATEMENT

Court Appointed Judge J. H. Warner to Act as Attorney for Man Who Tried to Blow up Dam

In district court chambers this morning before Judge W. S. McClenahan, Wm. Fischer, who tried to blow up the dam in Northeast Brainerd by placing a big charge of dynamite under it, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to the penitentiary at Stillwater, being given an indeterminate sentence. Under the law the maximum penalty for the crime is five years imprisonment.

Judge J. H. Warner had been appointed attorney for Fischer by the court. His compensation was fixed at $10.

Fischer was questioned by Judge McClenahan and the following is the gist of his statement.

Fischer said he had lived in Brainerd nearly all summer and had been working at the shops. He has a farm up the Mississippi river, being several miles by road and six miles by river. He was born in Marshfield, Wisconsin. He was now about 33 years old. He had not attended school very much.

Fischer said he was a single man. His farm measured 104 acres. He had owned it about six years, having proved it up five or six years ago, homesteading it. It was improved and there were buildings on it. Five acres were cleared.

"I take it there is, or was originally," said Judge McClenahan, "some meadow land there, or low land?"

"Well, there is about 92 acres of low land with all the way from a foot to three feet of water on it caused by this dam, (Northwest Paper Co. dam) Of course I know I had no right to do this, but that would have made me one of the nicest farms in this country, along the river there; I had a mile on the river, and before it was overflowed it was the finest land in this country, and I have been told that by people who saw it before it was overflowed."

Fischer said he had a settlement with the paper company and they had paid him $100 for flowage rights, about four years ago. There had been no condemnation proceedings. He had accepted the $100 in settlement. He asked them for $200 at first.

Fischer said he had never before been arrested for a criminal offense.

He said he was no drinking man. He was sober when he attempted to dynamite the dam.

"I had planned on this for more than a year," said Fischer. "I didn't think they would ever build a paper mill there anyway, as far as that goes."

"And your idea," said Judge McClenahan, "was that with the dam removed you would have your land dry and be free to use it as it was originally adapted to be used?"

"Yes, sir," said Fischer, "that was my idea."

"You knew that that dam was property just as much as any other structure, didn't you?" asked the court.

"O, yes," said Fischer. "But I thought they were going to take it out and I thought I would do it myself and save them the trouble."

Fischer stated he got the dynamite at Riverton. He claimed he used 50 pounds of dynamite.

Fischer did not know what percentage of dynamite it was.

"Where did you get the fuse?" asked the court.

"I got the fuse at the same place where I got the dynamite," said Fischer, "but the fuse had spoiled on me. The fuse I used I got just a few days before I tried to do this. I went to Minneapolis for that."

The dynamite, said Fischer, was in a satchel.

"I made a hole in the satchel. It was an old satchel and I cut a hole in that and put the fuse into the dynamite. I think I had that right. I protected the fuse with a rubber hose."

"And you lit the fuse?" asked Judge McClenahan.

"Yes, sir," said Fischer.

Fischer said he went down to the dam in a rowboat in the evening. There was nobody around at the time. There was an automobile passing there when he was doing this, they were going across the bridge.

Fischer said he had previously been working in sawmills at Virginia and International Falls and other places. He had been following up sawmill work for 15 years before coming to Brainerd. His father was living. His name was Fred Fischer. His mother was living, but had separated from his father. She was now at Marshfield, Wis., with his step-father, she having married again.

Fischer said he had never handled dynamite before and had never made an attempt like the Brainerd one before.

"Had anybody talked with you about this way of disposing of the dam?" asked Judge McClenahan.

"No sir, nobody," said Fischer.

It was something he had figured out himself, said Fischer. He did not belong to any society, or order, that believed in the destruction of property. He had never read any literature bearing on that subject. He read very little anyway.

"I never had very much schooling and it has only been the last six months that I have taken an interest in reading. I have got so I can read fairly well," said Fischer.

There is absolutely no truth to the rumor published that the Northern Pacific railway hospital at Brainerd, the largest on the system, is to be removed to the Midway district of the Twin Cities, neither is there any truth to the report that an emergency hospital is to be established at the Midway, say hospital authorities at Brainerd.

Brainerd people are considerably agitated about the reports and regret the publicity gained.

Cold Mark on January 14 was 38 Below, at 8 This Morning It Was 12 Below Zero

Friday, January 14, was another cold day. The high mark was 5 below and the low mark 38 below. Plumbers were busy. The coal men wore smiles on their faces. The switchmen and trainmen in the yards, engineers and firemen, worked manfully. One freight started out with three engines pushing for a good start.

The Gull lake dam observatory, which, by the way is getting almost as famous as Greenwich, gives this detailed report of weather:

January 14:—
5 p. m. 8 below
7 p. m. 15 below
10 p. m. 24 below
January 15:—
8 a. m. 12 below

Considerable trouble is reported with some of the mercury thermometers. Around near 40 below they commence to buck and refuse to operate. When 42 below was recorded at the dam, one south side mercury wedged down at 26 below.

The prize story of the cold weather season concerns a housewife who had summoned a plumber to repair a break. When her husband came home she said he was such a gentlemanly plumber and that she had had quite a conversation with him.

As visions of the bill pictured themselves before her husband's eyes he cried out: "Didn't you know who you was talking to? Don't you know that a plumber gets 50c to 75c an hour and every time you talked to him you helped to run up the bill?"

Some Shrinkage!

A man purchased some red flannel undershirts, guaranteed not to shrink. He reminded the salesman of the guarantee a few weeks later.

"Have you had any difficulty with them?" the salesman asked.

"Have I?" replied the customer. "Why the other morning when I was dressing, my wife said to me: 'John, why are you wearing that pink coral necklace?'"

MOOSE LODGE ANNIVERSARY

To be Celebrated on Friday Evening, January 21, at the Moose Hall in Iron Exchange Building

A FINE PROGRAM IS PREPARED

Will be Followed by a Supper and a Dance, to be an Evening of Rare Enjoyment

The Loyal Order of Moose of Brainerd will celebrate their third anniversary in befitting manner Friday evening, January 21, at the Moose hall in the Iron Exchange building.

A fine program is to be given and this will be followed by a supper and a dance. All members and their families are invited and this first celebration of the kind by the order will no doubt prove of the most popular kind.

The anniversary committee has worked valiantly and has provided a splendid entertainment, a generous supper and a fine dance and every Moose owes it to himself and family to be present.

Riverton, of the Cuyuna iron range, will be largely represented. Judge Guy Bye and estimable wife will head a large delegation from that enterprising village.

The Moose have increased in such numbers that it has been found necessary to get a bigger hall to hold them all and the change was made from the Trades & Labor hall to the new Moose hall in the Iron Exchange building. To many of the Moose and their families the anniversary gathering will give them their first glimpse of their new, splendid quarters.

MINING ON THE RANGE

Iron Mountain Busy Getting Out Ore —Ferro Mine Adding Boilers Other News

At the Iron Mountain mine near Manganese they are busy getting out ore, dumping it into cars and shipping it. A place for another pump has been prepared underground, and another 150 horse power steam boiler has been installed recently. The mine now has steam power of 450 horse power.

At the Ferro mine near Manganese a very large boiler and machine house have been built, two 150 horse power steam boilers have just been put in and a third one will soon be added. A five foot drum hoist will soon be put in place. A large air compressor, capable of running 15 underground drills, has been ordered and will soon be on the ground. The shaft has just been unwatered and found to be in the best of condition. Twenty-one men are at present employed at the mine getting things in shape for actual mining early in the spring.

The mine shaft at the Adbar mine is 42 feet and a drop shaft will be made of it.

At the Brainerd-Cuyuna mine in the city limits of Brainerd, both electric pumps of 1,600 gallons capacity are working steadily.

The Cuyuna Range Power Co. will, in a couple of months, have its lines extended from the Cuyuna Mills Lake mine, it is reported, to the Iron Mountain and Ferro mines, supplying them with electricity for power and lights. It is expected that Manganese will also soon have electric power.

CREPE FOR LITTLE FALLS

Their Basketball Team to be in Mourning when Brainerd Gets Through with Them

The local Brainerd high school basketball quint journeyed south to Little Falls on the afternoon train with many fans including Brainerd's rooter king and Mr. Killian who so successfully coached the football team of last season. Captain Falconer announced that Brainerd was after Little Falls' scalp and were going to get it.

King Golemboske said Falconer was right and that the Little Falls high school would be in mourning next week. Members of the team who made the trip were Warner, Falconer, captain; Reis, Hagberg, Molstad, O'Brien and Bredenberg. A full report of tonight's game will be furnished the Dispatch for Monday night's issue by the high school sport dopest.

Victor supremacy

Full tone — Soft tone — Subdued tone

The Victor Needle produces the full tone as originally sung or played—particularly suited for large rooms and halls, and for dancing.

The Victor Half-Tone Needle reduces the volume of tone and gives you the effect of sitting in the middle of an opera house or theatre.

The Victor Fibre Needle produces a rich, subdued tone that takes you still further back—a tone that will delight the discriminating music-lover.

Victor system of changeable needles

If a fixed or permanent point were the best method for playing records, you may be sure the Victor Company would equip the Victrola with a fixed point.

There is nothing new about a fixed point. It is the old original method that was used on the cylinder phonographs for the past forty years, which have been superseded by the Victor and Victor Records and the changeable needles—the only method that insures a perfect reproduction in exact accord with the artist's interpretation.

All disc machines are more or less imitations of the Victrola—the Victrola is the original instrument of its kind, and years of continuous experiment with the lavish expenditure of millions of dollars for scientific research have placed it upon a pinnacle of supremacy that is unassailable.

Genuine Victrolas $15 to $300. Terms to suit your convenience, if desired.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Best

"The Regeneration" one of the strongest pictures that has ever been filmed at the Best tonight. Under such a great director as R. A. Walsh, and with scenes and settings on which no cost was spared, with types from the Bowery that it took weeks and months to secure, and in fact with everything as nearly human as human ingenuity can make it, this picture is predicted, will be an epoch in the film world. There are scenes of New York life that are too human and too perfect to describe by words. The part of Mamie Rose is taken by Anna Nilson, who for the past four years has been considered one of the sweetest and most charming actresses of the shadowy screen. Others to contribute to the success of the cast are Rockcliffe Fellowes, who became a star on Broadway his first year in the theatrical world; William Sheer, who has made millions of friends on the screen through his exceptionally fine character work, and thousands of others who go to make this great picture the success that it is bound to have.

"Heights of Hazard" is written by Cyrus Townsend Brady the best known picture written in the country and author of "The Chalice of Courage" and "Island of Regeneration." The picture was directed by J. Stewart Blackton & Albert E. Smith and presents Charles Richman and Eleanor Woodruff in the stellar roles and supporting them is a cast of eminent stars.

Passenger Rates Go Up in 8 States Today

(By United Press)

Chicago, Jan. 15.—Hereafter it will cost more to ride trains in these eight states: Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas which will be affected by changed railroad passenger rates on interstate hauls.

The interstate commerce rates in this section are to be increased from 2 cents a mile to 2.4 cents a mile in Illinois, the Northern Michigan peninsula, Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska, and in the northern parts of Missouri and Kansas; and from two cents to 2.5 and 3 cents, March 1.

A recent decision of the interstate commerce commission prevented the proposed change but at the same time made possible the smaller increase. "The carriers have failed to justify an increase to 2.5 cents and 3 cents per mile, but have justified an increase to 2.4 and 2.6 cents," the interstate commerce commission reads.

FRANCE REFUSES TO GIVE CONSENT

Will Not Permit Canned Milk to Reach Teutons.

REASONS GIVEN ARE MILITARY

Charitable Organizations in the United States Are Unable to Send Food Supplies to German Children—Great Britain Is Expected to Take Same Stand as Her Ally.

Washington, Jan. 15.—France has declined "for military reasons" to permit shipments of condensed milk by charitable organizations in the United States to Germany and Austria-Hungary for the use of babies of those countries.

Ambassador Sharp at Paris and Ambassador Page at London were authorized recently by Secretary Lansing to inquire if the governments of France and Great Britain would permit such shipments, after the American Red Cross had agreed to undertake supervision of the distribution of the milk to assure its use for the purpose stated.

Ambassador Sharp's reply was received by the state department.

A department paraphrase of it is: "The French government under date of Jan. 13 reports receipt of your inquiry. It states that on account of military reasons it is not willing to authorize shipments of milk to either Germany or Austria-Hungary, even if the American Red Cross will supervise distribution."

It is assumed that Great Britain will make a similar reply, although so far Ambassador Page has not been heard from.

Commenting on the telegram to Viscount Bryce from the frontier of Transcaucasia and Asiatic Turkey the Armenian refugees committee in London says:

"This seems to indicate the final destruction of the unfortunate Armenian peasantry who fled to the mountains to escape massacre. They were the most manly part of the Armenian nation, leading a quiet life in the remote valleys of the Euphrates."

New York, Jan. 15.—The number of passengers arriving at New York on ships from foreign ports during 1915 shows a decrease of 519,467 from the previous year, according to figures made public here by the Ellis Island immigration authorities. The decrease is attributed solely to the war.

From all ports and by all steamship lines there was brought here during the year a total of 216,274 persons, as against 735,741 during 1914, and 1,338,216 during 1913.

STILL DEBATE ON THE PHILIPPINES

None Rants About Retention as Military Necessity.

NATIVES ARE ANTAGONISTIC

Listening to John Sharp Williams' Stand For Military Preparedness Almost Revelation or Like Dream. Congressional Union to Vote in Both Houses on Suffrage Amendment.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 15.—[Special.]—There has not been much variation in the story about the Philippines during the past seventeen years. Speeches made at the time the United States ratified the treaty with Spain and heard in every congress since that time when the islands were the subject of conversation do not differ in tone or temperance. Perhaps there is a slight change in one particular. No one gets up now and rants about the retention of the Philippines as a military necessity. No one has the assurance to say that a large group of islands on the other side of the world, with a population of 8,000,000 Malays antagonistic to everything American, is helpful to us as a part of our national defense. But the same reasons for and against maintaining the islands are given in the debates.

Uncle Sam's Experiments.

The Philippine archipelago is one of several costly experiments by our government. Having whipped Spain in 1898 and being a little ashamed of it, we took the Philippines off her hands and gave her $20,000,000 in addition. Then we spent anywhere from $600,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 on the islands, and today the best representatives of the party in power, the party which is for a time the government, say we required a gold brick, and they are urging—and what is more, may pass legislation which will sever our control of the islands, though it may not sever our relations with them. Our altruism will continue to the extent of trying to maintain a republic in a land where such an experiment is purely illusory.

His Old Partner.

Although Senator Lodge remained regular and Colonel Roosevelt led the bull moose, the Massachusetts senator still has a fondness for his old partner in politics. Only recently in discussing the recognition of Carranza Lodge remarked that recognition was purely an executive matter. "I remember a few years ago," said Senator Lodge, "in taking that position when the senators on the other side were denouncing an act of recognition by a former president as 'usurpation.'" Lodge referred to the recognition of Panama. Roosevelt was severely criticised by the Democrats for recognizing the republic which it is said he helped to create.

The "Skeered" or Nothing.

Listening to John Sharp Williams' stand for military preparedness was almost a revelation or like a dream. It was only a few years ago that John Sharp was minority leader of the house made his famous "Skeered" or Nothing speech. It was at the time of the first dreadnaughts. We proposed to build one or two, as Great Britain was building such ships. Williams ridiculed the idea as preposterous and sarcastically he stopped in China, where he met Yuan Shih-Kai. He was received with much pomp, and when he was leaving he was presented with the autographed photograph.

advocated the building of an immense battleship and calling it the "Skeered" or Nothing.

But it is different now. John Sharp, who has expressed his hatred of war, who has always declared that preparations for war would bring on war, now sees visions of the United States over-run by a foreign foe.

Fifty Years a Long Time.

Congressman London, the New York Socialist, opposed the fifty year leasing plan of water power sites in the conservation bill. "Fifty years is a long time," he said. "I wonder where I will be able to meet you fifty years from now in order to reproach you for your act. I am not quite sure I am going to meet you in heaven, although I know where I am going to land as a Socialist."

Having Their Own Way.

The Congressional union, the vigorous organization handling woman suffrage in Washington, is going to have a vote in both houses on the suffrage amendment. This organization has already had the resolution it favors reported in the senate and will try to have a report made in the house at an early day.

Will Start Too Late.

For a long time there has been little to occupy the house except speech-making. That was the time the advocates of the child labor bill should have utilized in order to get their bill considered. Now there will be hearings, discussions and delays, and finally when the bill is reported it will be so late in the session that it cannot be considered.

National Defense.

Reading the Congressional Record these days one gets an idea that national defense consists in easing the treasury of a little money here and there. J. Hampton Moore would spend a few hundred millions for an inland waterway; Congressman Borland, who lives in Kansas City, would have a few millions spent for the Missouri river; a Minnesota man would have a military academy at Fort Snelling and a California man a naval academy on the Pacific coast.

How He Avoided It.

"Have you ever been lissed off the stage?" asked the girl who was thrilled at having met a real actor. "Oh, no," he replied. "When I'm on the stage I always try to be among friends as much as possible."

Washington, Jan. 15.—Removal of Albert Clark, a private in the United States army, from the American steamer Santa Marta at Jamaica is not expected to result in a protest from the state department.

THREE MEASURES MUST BE PASSED

Conservation, Rural Credits and Philippine Bills to Be Rushed.

MEET LITTLE OPPOSITION.

All Were Sidetracked at Last Session In Order to Allow the Passage of Tariff Measure and New Financial Legislation—Humphrey Decries Our "Battlefield Prosperity."

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 14.—[Special.]—Three administration measures which failed during the last congress are to be pushed through early this time. They are the Philippine bill, the rural credits bill and the conservation bill.

All these were allowed to drop behind the tariff and financial legislation and other measures which were thought to be more important during the last congress.

The vigor with which these measures are being pressed indicates a determination to pass them before they are sidetracked by the appropriation bills.

Conservation in the House.

The conservation measures were first brought up in the house. The opposition to them amounts to little. Republican leaders joined the Democratic managers in helping to put the first bill through, and it is expected they will give the same support to others. The opponents from the west were divided and their opposition was fruitless.

In the senate the opposition to these bills will mean a fight of intense interest. Republicans and Democrats from western states will join in an effort to prevent them from going through, but on the other hand, the west will not be united, and the chances are for the early enactment of the legislation.

"Battlefield Prosperity."

Congressman Humphrey of Washington coined the phrase "battlefield prosperity" in a speech in the house. Of course it was a partisan speech—Humphrey couldn't make any other kind—but it was full of comment upon the prosperity which our people are enjoying on account of the bloody war fare being waged in Europe. It looks as if many people would give voice to the idea that our people should not feel too proud of the war money which is coming to this country.

More For Agriculture.

Before congress gets through talking about spending many more millions for war purposes it is probable that representatives of agricultural districts will point out how inadequate are the present appropriations for agriculture upon which depends the permanent stability of the country. A number of men have introduced bills to further increase the efficiency of agricultural colleges and schools, but there is also a demand for enlarging the entire field of agricultural development. Advocates of agricultural improvement want money spent along these lines rather than for possible war purposes.

Minnesota and the Presidency.

Several speeches were made in the house expressing regret on account of the untimely death of Governor Hammond of Minnesota. Speaker Clark once so near the presidency—gave an interesting contribution. He said that Minnesota had been unfortunate, or the Democrats of that state had been unfortunate, in having death cut off promising statesmen who might have been president. He referred to Governor Johnson, who died during his third term, saying:

"His was not a bad chance for being president, and if he had lived his third term out I am not at all certain that he would not have now been in the White House."

Champ evidently forgot for the moment that Johnson was under the Bryan ban because he had at one time aspired to the nomination when Bryan was himself a candidate. The speaker said Hammond might have had his chance for president if he had lived, but Hammond had supported Johnson, earnestly for president and might have also been subject to the Bryan displeasure.

Langley Quotes Democrats.

Congressman Langley of Kentucky obtained "leave to print" a speech, and he used most of his space in quoting signed editorials by William J. Bryan in his paper and by William Randolph Hearst in his papers. He described them as two prominent Democrats, both attacking the policies of the Democratic administration.

Postal Savings Money.

When the law was passed for postal savings banks fears were entertained by overcautious rural representatives that it would develop into a scheme to take money from the rural communities and stick it up in money centers. So a provision was inserted to compel the use of the money in loans in the communities where the deposits were made.

It has turned out that the deposits have been in the big centers, in the cities of working people, particularly where there are many foreigners. Now it is proposed to repeal that part of the law and allow the money to be used for rural credits. But friends of the postal savings system strenuously oppose the scheme.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD
Get a small package of Hamburger Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.
Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.
